TRAINING & EDUCATION

Post-Doctoral Research Fellowship University of California San Diego, School of Medicine	(anticipated) June 2030
Fellowship, Infectious Diseases University of California San Diego, School of Medicine	(anticipated) June 2027
Residency, Internal Medicine University of California San Diego, School of Medicine	(anticipated) June 2026
Doctor of Medicine, M.D. Loyola University Chicago, Stritch School of Medicine	May 2023
Master's in Public Health, M.P.H. in Policy & Management Loyola University Chicago, Parkinson School of Health Sciences	May 2023
Doctor of Philosophy, Ph.D. in Medical Biology University of Southern California, Keck School of Medicine	May 2018
Bachelor of Arts, B.A. in Chemistry University of California Riverside, College of Natural & Agricultural Sciences	Dec 2012

EMPLOYMENT

Research Consultant at University of Southern California	Jun 2018 – Present
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Remote management of two translational research projects in an academic research laboratory at the University of Southern California.• One project is focused on developing monoclonal antibodies against the Gram-negative bacterium Acinetobacter baumannii for use as adjunct therapy in conjunction with standard antibiotic therapy.• The other project is focused on developing an adjuvant-only vaccine for prophylaxis against nosocomial infections.• Responsibilities include experimental design, data analysis/presentation, manuscript writing/preparation, and grant writing/revising.
Research Scientist at Loyola University Chicago	Feb 2019 – Aug 2019
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Worked with Dr. Lara Dugas on the Modeling the Epidemiological Transition Study of the Microbiome project (METS Microbiome project).• This was a prospective longitudinal cohort study that took place across five countries, including USA (Chicago, IL), Ghana, Jamaica, Seychelles, and South Africa.• The goal was to investigate whether there is a link between metabolic syndrome, gut microbiota, and country of origin among people of African ancestry.

- Responsibilities included participant enrollment, data collection/management, and management of daily clinical operations.
- Research Scientist at University of Southern California Jun 2015 – May 2018
- Worked on various projects in an academic research laboratory at the University of Southern California as a PhD graduate student.
 - Projects focused on the immunology of host defense against highly resistant infections.
 - Responsibilities included experimental design, BSL2+ pathogen manipulation, laboratory animal handling, data analysis/presentation, manuscript preparation, and grant writing.
- Research Scientist at Biological Anti-Infective Medicines Jun 2014 – May 2018
- This small business venture was founded to develop antibodies directed at the Gram-negative bacterium Acinetobacter baumannii.
 - Responsibilities included experimental design, BSL2+ pathogen manipulation, laboratory animal handling, data analysis/presentation, manuscript preparation, and grant writing.
- Research Scientist at The Lundquist Institute Mar 2013 – May 2015
- Assisting in various laboratory projects at an academic research facility related to immunology of host defense against highly antimicrobial-resistant pathogens.
 - Responsibilities included experimental design, BSL2+ pathogen manipulation, laboratory animal handling, data analysis/presentation, manuscript preparation, and grant writing.

HONORS

Honors in Research (Stritch School of Medicine)

- The Research Honors Program distinguishes medical student graduates who complete a program of advanced education and experience in research are required
- Recipients are required to complete the STAR Program (Student Training in Approaches to Research); attend monthly Research Honors Seminars, research-related seminars, and journal clubs; pursue a research project throughout the last three years of medical school under the guidance of a selected research mentor; complete a research elective during the third or fourth year of medical school; and submit an original research manuscript.

Albert Schweitzer Fellowship (Chicago Chapter)

- Selected for the development of a program to help students from local high schools interested in public health actively learn about the discipline from MPH students while gaining hands-on experience helping a local primary care clinic that caters to the underserved Latino population of Chicago's southwest side.

- Founded in 1940, The Albert Schweitzer Fellowship immerses a diverse group of graduate students in a mentored experiential learning and leadership development program designed to increase their skills and commitment to address the health needs of underserved people.

AΣN Member (Loyola University Chicago)

- Selection to Alpha Sigma Nu is one of the highest honors that can be given on a Jesuit campus.
- Alpha Sigma Nu is the international honor society of Jesuit institutions of higher education founded in 1915 to honor a select number of students each year on the basis of scholarship, loyalty, and service.

Public Health Scholar (Loyola University Chicago)

- Merit-based scholarship from the dean of the Stritch School of Medicine covering 50% tuition for the dual-degree MD/MPH program.
